“America’s Funniest Man” James Gregory To Perform at the Sunset Theatre

ASHEBORO – The Self-proclaimed “Funniest Man in America” James Gregory will be performing his clean humor at the historic Sunset Theatre located at 234 Sunset Avenue in downtown Asheboro, NC on Friday, August 26 at 7:30 p.m. For over 25 years, James has been delivering his common-sense wisdom, old-fashioned values and politically incorrect humor to audiences nationwide.

Gregory was born in a rural area east of Atlanta, Ga. and worked among other things as a salesman for almost ten years before discovering the wonderful world of stand-up comedy. James does not “tip-toe” through life as if he’s walking on broken glass or egg shells. That style is evident on stage as well. He is not politically correct. Much of his humor is centered on brilliant observations of crazy relatives and people obsessed with the slightest change in weather conditions - now referred to as global warming. The James Gregory show turns the clock back to a time when life was simpler; to a better time, before the death of common sense; a time when people sat on the front porch and actually talked to each other without a cell phone in their ear.

Tickets for the James Gregory performance are $42 for “premium seating, $35 for preferred seating and $27 for general admission seating. Fans can purchase tickets online at funniestman.com or at the City of Asheboro’s Cultural & Recreation Services office located at 241 Sunset Avenue. For additional information, please call the Cultural & Recreation Services office at (336) 626-1240.
